

How Management and Design Students can be a part of KPIT Sparkle 2019?

KPIT Sparkle is an innovation platform for students, where they bring their innovative ideas to participate and compete with students at a Pan India level. In Earlier editions this contest was only for Science, Engineering and Technology Students but KPIT Sparkle 2019, 5th edition brings an opportunity for Design and Management students to participate, innovate and submit their ideas.

How they can participate?

- Design / Management Students can register by forming their own team and submit the innovative idea(s) to KPIT Sparkle 2019
- Design / Management Students can collaborate with other Engineering OR Technology Team for idea submission
- Design / Management Students either can choose team to collaborate by their own OR KPIT Sparkle team will decide with whom they should collaborate

Why Design and Management Students Should Participate?

- Experience the only platform which connects students from Science, Engineering, Design and Management to come up with products which can make world a better place
- Be part of a team who would pitch to incubation partners who would assist the future entrepreneurs
- Live project experience for Design & Management students to work with engineering/science teams to build a successful design considering functionality & aesthetics and a valid business case, to collaborate and become an entrepreneur
